The USD-70-million (EUR 57.6m) project will build a 35.7-MW solar photovoltaic (PV) plant and a 14.8-MW/45.7-MWh lithium-ion battery storage system, which are set to become the largest facility of this kind in the Caribbean, according to Leclanche.

Swiss battery maker Leclanche SA (SWX:LECN) said on Wednesday that it will build the largest solar-plus-storage facility in the Caribbean in partnership with the government of the island country of Saint Kitts and Nevis.

The Project, scheduled for completion in 2025, will provide Sainstt Kitts with 35.7 MW of solar capacity and 43.6 MWh of battery storage for the delivery of clean, renewable, and reliable energy for 25 years.

The solar project on St. Kitts will be oversized, allowing a portion of that electricity to meet current electric demand on the island, and the remainder to charge the large-scale battery storage system to meet island demand after the sun sets.
